BreachProtection™ Breach Prevention Resources

Data breaches are a prevalent phenomenon in the US. In 2010 the Identity Theft Resource Center recorded breaches leading to more than 16 million exposures. With 46 state-breach notification regulations, as well as the passage of the first federal level breach notification law, these breach events can no longer be kept confidential, emphasizing the importance of preventing the event in the first place. Hiscox offers more than just an insurance policy. We make available to our policyholders breach prevention services through our partnership with BreachProtection.™ BreachProtection provides risk management policies, procedures, training, and other tools to help your company prevent a breach of confidential data.
